About: Noteworthy, unconventional and intensifying, Greenapple leather design represents the pinnacle of craftsmanship and skilled artisans. Based in Kolkata, Greenapple specialises in the production of mens bags, backpacks, ladies handbags, and small leather accessories. We have trained in Government recognized Lean Manufacturing Processes and are now incorporating cellular manufacturing in our unit. This enables more efficiency and creativity within our unit.

USP/ Highlight: Since the 1960's Greenapple's parent company, has been developing know-how, in the trade of finished leather. With technique's learnt under direct consultancy from Italy spanned over 4 decades, we provide an inclusive experience where everything from leather to product to packaging can be customised. Currently with our offices in Florence and India, we are continuously raising the bar for production, introducing new quality control measures, technological and training based, all to handle High Quality production on a large scale. Our aim remains to keep pushing the bar, where we become the top producers for the luxury leather goods market globally.
